or as well as the isomorphic relationship and mirrored reflections between the basic structures of pataphysics and quantum physics; so it's easy to imagine an outline of coherence between these two very different enterprises. We can at least call that an interesting haptic synchronicity, or perhaps it's the zeitgeist, or better yet: a covalent topological expression of the tenor of our times; i.e. simply the outcome of both Alfred Jarry and Einstein breathing the same new rarefied non-Euclidian Twentieth Century airs;
